

FESTIVAL OF WINDMILLS

January & February 2026

Quixote Hospitality's logo depicts a knight on horseback, drawn from Miguel de Cervantes' Don Quixote. The character, known for tilting at windmills he believed were giants, embodies the courage to dream the impossible. Much like Quixote Hospitality, with its vision of transforming Sumter, South Carolina, into a destination. Each of the company's businesses represents a windmill: a challenge to be faced with imagination, persistence, and heart.

Over the course of two months, the Festival of Windmills will showcase the very best of Quixote Hospitality, bringing together acclaimed chefs, winemakers, and local talent to create unforgettable dining experiences.

This time, instead of tilting at windmills, we'll be dining at them!
